

HECHT & COMPANY,
515 Seventh St.Get into the cool things.

You can get into them here and it won't cost you much, either—not near as much as it will cost elsewhere, and we'll let you pay for them in small weekly installments.

Take our $10 Serge Suits—unfading blacks and blues—single or double breasted. Never has there been as good a Serge Suit offered in this city for less than $15. That is the honest truth. We have opportunities to buy clothing for less than any other in town can buy it. That's how it's possible to say $10 instead of $15.

Men's Linen Crash Suits, very stylish and cool, for $1.98—coat, vest and pants. Ever know of them bringing less than $3.50?

Men's Seersucker Coats—the 75c sort for 39c. Men's White Duck Pants for 49c—the $1 kind.

HECHT & COMPANY,
515 Seventh St.NEW YORK BUFFET,
Imported Wines and Cigars.

JAMES H. COSTELLO, Proprietor,
405 Tenth Street N. W.,
Washington, D. C.

The Bijou Cafe, FOR LADIES & GENTLEMEN
Everything 3c.
513 Ninth Street N. W.

BELLIGERENT OF CUBANS.

Discussion But No Action by Senate Foreign Relations Committee. The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations this morning discussed Senator Morgan's joint resolution recognizing the belligerency of the Cuban insurgents. No action was taken and sentiments of the members were not disclosed by the discussion. The meeting was not largely attended, so the subject was postponed until next Wednesday.

Nothing was said in the committee about asking the presence before it of the Diaz brothers, who were expelled from Cuba on a charge of aiding the insurgents. A movement is on foot to have these gentlemen appear before the committee and relate the condition of affairs on the island as they know them, but no steps have yet been taken looking to such a hearing.

Marriage Licenses.

Licenses to marry have been issued, as follows: Mahlow Sullivan and Ellen Brady, both of Montgomery county, Md.; John B. Wilson and Sarah E. Meyers, George W. Newton and Belle Lee, John A. Mue of Westmoreland county, Va., and Rosa L. Davis of Loudoun county, Va.

George G. Colegate and Estelle M. Law, William Campbell of Leonardtown, Md., and Mary Miles.

William Thomas and Jennie Nickens, both of Alexandria.

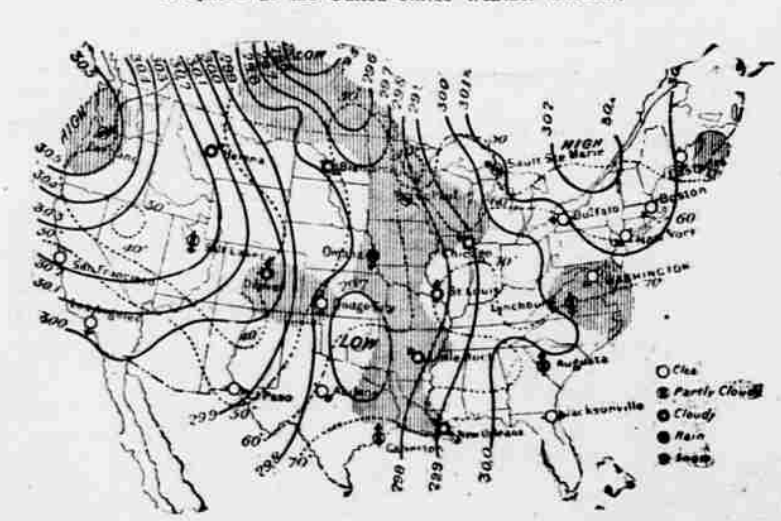

George Fitzgerald and Mary E. Garden, Reuben Brown of Wintrop Heights and Maggie Gell.

Marriage May Stop Prosecution.

The case of Frank Stewart of the Government Printing Office, charged with violating the Espionage law, was continued in the police court today until Friday. The young woman, with whom he lived two years, and who claims he is the father of her infant, will abandon the prosecution and go to her people in New York, she says, if he will marry her and the child's sake. This may be the outcome of the matter Friday.

THE TIMES DAILY WEATHER MAP.

(Prepared at the United States Weather Bureau.)

Forecast Till 8 p. m. Thursday.

For the District of Columbia, Delaware and Maryland, fair tonight and Thursday; slight changes in temperature, cooler Friday. For Virginia and North Carolina, fair in the interior; possibly showers near the coast tonight; Thursday, fair, south-easterly winds.

Weather Conditions and General Forecast.

An area of high pressure is central over the Gulf of St. Lawrence and extends southward to the Florida Peninsula. The pressure is low throughout the Central Valley and over the Rocky Mountain slope, with a trough extending from Eastern Texas to Manitoba. A strong area of high pressure covers the Rocky Mountain plateau, central on the North Pacific coast. The barometer has risen in New England and the Middle States, also generally in the Rocky Mountain districts, and it has fallen in the Lower Mississippi Valley.

It is slightly cooler this morning in nearly all districts, especially the North Atlantic coast and on the Middle Mountain slope.

Showers, with thunder storms, have occurred in the Middle Atlantic States, in the lake region, the Mississippi and Missouri Valleys.

Fair and moderately cool weather is indicated for New England and the North

MAY WARRANTS ARE OUT

More Than Two Hundred Issued for Violators of Law.

OFFICIALS TAKE ACTION

Failure to Provide Proper Receipts for Garbage Will Cause Citizens to Be Brought Into Court. Senator Morgan's Complaint—Minor District Matters and Daily Orders.

A house to house search is being made by the health authorities for garbage receptacles which are not patterned and constructed according to the health regulations. Inspector George Washington Rife of the health office is now devoting his time exclusively to this work, and he has been facetiously termed "inspector of garbage cans, covers and handles."

As a result of Inspector Rife's house-to-house work, Warrant Clerk Washburn and Clerk Elliott of the police court issued about 150 warrants today against householders, principally in the northeast and southeast sections, charging them with being "then and there the occupants of certain premises where garbage is accumulated, did then and there fail to provide for the reception of said garbage in a water-tight metal receptacle, provided with a cover having a handle thereon."

The receptacle is to contain not less than three nor more than ten gallons. The lowest penalty is a fine of $5. Many of the cases will be tried in Judge Kimball's court tomorrow. The warrants will be served today and tonight. About 100 more will be issued tomorrow.

A SENATOR'S COMPLAINT.

Senator Morgan has called the attention of the Commissioners to the multitude of vehicles that congregate daily in the vicinity of his residence, No. 315 Fourth-and-a-half street northwest, to the obstruction of the street and sidewalk. The warrants will be served today and tonight. About 100 more will be issued tomorrow.

The lieutenant's attention has been called to section 18, page 218, of Webb's digest, which makes it unlawful for any person, "on pain of arrest to remain on any street or avenue, any horse-track or horse-trough, and forbidding the same on any open space of the same."

Section 8, page 38, of the police regulations is also noted for the officer's guidance, which provides that "no vehicles shall stop abreast of another vehicle upon any street, to the obstruction of traffic."

Messrs. E. H. Tucker, N. L. King and Samuel Sowerbutts, representing the North-east Washington Citizens' Association, called on Commissioner Powell this morning and placed in his hands the resolution adopted by the association commending the action of the board of street extension in the northeast. They also discussed the proposition for the conversion of Grand Central avenue into a park.

SUMMON A JURY.

The Commissioners have forwarded to the United States marshal for the sum of $100,000, which provides that "no vehicles shall stop abreast of another vehicle upon any street, to the obstruction of traffic."

Major Powell said he thought Maryland avenue should be extended through the grounds, and is not of the opinion that the cemetery can be exclusively retained as a park, but promised to consider the request.

SUMMON A JURY.

The Commissioners have forwarded to the United States marshal for the sum of $100,000, which provides that "no vehicles shall stop abreast of another vehicle upon any street, to the obstruction of traffic."

Major Powell said he thought Maryland avenue should be extended through the grounds, and is not of the opinion that the cemetery can be exclusively retained as a park, but promised to consider the request.

Private E. H. Wood of the police force was summarily dismissed from his position today for intoxication. The officer had, on several different occasions recently, been charged with entering barrooms when on duty, but each time gave a plausible excuse. An order was issued, however, to fine him, but before the order could be enforced the lieutenant of his precinct reported having found him under the influence of liquor while patrolling his route, and he was at once retired.

The Commissioners forwarded to Congress today a statement of the estimates made of the revenues of the District for the fiscal year ending July 1, 1897. It is a duplicate of the report heretofore published in The Times.

WANTED HERE FOR FRAUD

S. B. Husselman Was Considered Worth Half a Million.

LACKING $500 IS INDICTED

E. R. Jackson & Co., Frank T. Evans and Col. Thomas E. Reeves Will Lose on a Trade for a Wire Fence Patent Involving $3,000—Accused Was Andrew Wall's Bondsman.

Mr. S. B. Husselman, who has been rated worth half a million, is wanted here for fraud. Papers are out for his arrest and United States Marshal Wilson has the case in hand.

Mr. Husselman has, however, completely dodged all his relations with the money. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

Mr. Husselman has made Philadelphia his residence, but did considerable business here last year. He had a patent for a wire fence, for which he was selling the right. He claimed to have sold rights in the wire fence patent to a syndicate of men who wanted him, and the best chance for his apprehension is to send out a description of him and give every person with whom he may come in contact the opportunity to recognize him and call him to account.

No Distinction

WHETHER RICH OR POOR—ALL TREATED BY

Dr. WALKER

$5 a Month

All medicines furnished free of cost. It's true. Ask any who have tried it. No matter what disease you are suffering from how long it may be, what care and attention is given to effect a cure. $5 a month is all you'll be allowed to pay. Men and women suffering from any nervous, chronic, blood, or skin disease can find instant relief and permanent cure at the hands of this wonderful specialist. Hundreds of testimonials on file, which can be seen on application. Dr. Walker can be seen at his laboratory, 1311 Pennsylvania avenue, daily, 10 to 12. All interviews and correspondence strictly private.

COMEDY WITH A CORPSE

Charles Biller Pretended to Identify New York's Mysterious Suicide.

Said She Was His Wife and Embraced and Kissed the Body. It Was All a Fake.

New York, May 13.—A tall and tipsy man, who said he was Charles B. Biller of New York, N. J., called at the morgue yesterday and said: "I'd like to see the clothing of Mrs. Everett. I was her wife."

The moment the man laid eyes on the corsets he clasped his hands to his face and groaned: "Oh, take them away, take them away; they are hers!"

Tears rolled down his cheeks and his grief seemed so genuine that nobody stopped to think how ridiculous it was, and every body felt sorry. "Let me see the body," said the man at last, and he was led over to the face of the woman who died last Friday night he fell on his knees beside it.

Putting his hands around the neck, he kissed the woman's head and kissed her. "The white he mourned, 'Oh, Julia, Julia, Julia,' and shed many tears. He was finally pulled away, and he rushed into the open air in an almost fainting condition. When he recovered Biller told a long story of his marriage to the woman. He engaged an undertaker and disappeared.

Bill was remembered as one of the most phenomenal finds of the decade. He was a clerk for the Western Union Telegraph Company and distinguished himself ten years ago by getting up pretty romances about his value as a life-saver.

He continued to save mythical people until he had seven or eight on his string, and Newark did him great honor when almost simultaneously he received two letters from his mother, one of which was from the other from Congress. A public reception and supper was given in his honor, and Mr. Doane made the speech of acceptance for him.

Bill succeeded in fooling pretty Julia Farrell of Newark, who became his wife, and who, her mother says, died of a broken heart, due to his cruelty and neglect. She believed all his romances until long after the exposure came.

He was found one night lying apparently unconscious in Newark. He had been taken to the morgue, and a large sum of money belonging to the company.

The story was investigated, and the result was that Biller's poor old parents paid the company several hundred dollars and he was released. He had been taken to the morgue, and a large sum of money belonging to the company.

When the money was due, Messrs. Weadon and Clegg said they had been disappointed in getting some money, and they had been through Mr. Husselman, Col. Reeves and Mr. Evans, knowing Mr. Husselman's high rating, felt very sure, when it came to the point, they could easily make the money out of Mr. Husselman's Philadelphia property.

Mr. Husselman himself promised that in a month he would have an abundance of money. The note was renewed for thirty days.

While this time was transpiring Messrs. Weadon and Clegg got the circulars, and began to put the wire-fence patent on the market. They quickly discovered at Richmond what they believed to be ample evidence that Mr. Husselman had sold them what he did not own.

HE WAS MISSING. When the money was due, Col. Reeves and Mr. Evans again tried to collect the $500, but this time, upon going to Philadelphia for Mr. Husselman, they could not find him.

The only return they could get out of him was a duplicate of the report heretofore published in The Times.

One of them was to bring deeds for Philadelphia real estate which he professed to be about to sell or buy. Usually they were for handsome property, and the trade had not been closed, they were not signed. They were skillfully presented as illustration or for advice in some general or confidential conversation.

Post University Bestows Degrees. Biddeford, May 13.—The University of Peth, has conferred honorary degrees upon Lord Kelvin, professor of natural history in the Glasgow University; Herbert Spencer, the English philosopher; Max Muller, the Orientalist; Prof. James Bryce, M. P., the eminent English geologist and scientific author, and Prof. Billings, of Philadelphia.

Thought to Have Been Murdered. New York, May 13.—The Kings Bridge police report that they had found the body of an unknown woman lying in a brook in Moshon Park, east of Jerome avenue, at 6:30 o'clock this morning. There were marks of violence on her head and body. The woman, about forty years of age, it is believed to be a case of murder.

Passengers on the Steamer China. San Francisco, May 13.—The steamer China arrived yesterday afternoon from China. Among the passengers were United States Minister Dunn, who is returning from his station in China, and Capt. John Isbister and several of the crew of the bark Centaur, burned off Hilo a couple of weeks ago.

Treacherous summer suit sale at the Bon Marche, today.

Yes, they do scrape out at the toe, those School Shoes without the broad soles. In the end the broad soles are twice as cheap.

At Arthur Burt's.